Story board

Initial Storyboard with basic user story

User interaction

The user opens the website (appendix A) and is presented with a Home Page, then click's on registration button ("I'm new") this then opens the New Family, after filling out and submitting the form (as a parent) the Login Page then loads and the user can submit, once the user has logged in they can then navigate to the Add appointment page or they can add New Member and the same goes for if the user has created a child login page (only added by a parent), they can then navigate to the Add deadline page, once an appointment/deadline has been added then the Edit/Delete pages then become available and these pages can then be accessed.

Revised Storyboard with basic user story

During the building of the website lines of code began to be repeated as a result some of the interaction was merged to have a more streamlined website to reduce the size of the website.

User interaction

User opens the website (Appendix B) and is presented with a Home Page, then click's on registration button ("New User") this then opens the New Family, after filling out and submitting the form (as a parent) the Login Page then loads and the user can submit, once the user has logged in they can then add an appointment or they can add a new member to their family by filling out the form's that open after they click the button, once an appointment has been made they can click the checkbox and this allows access to the edit/delete forms this is also the same for the user which has a child login page (only added by a parent).
